Where will the MA in CHINESE STUDIES LEAD YOU?

The career paths chosen by graduating students are diverse. Some go on to PhD programmes, while others find employment in media, business or finance, or find positions in government or international agencies. Yet others pursue careers in secondary school teaching or work for non-profit organizations. Regardless of your future plans, the programme aims to provide you with the knowledge of China necessary to reach your career and personal goals.

STUDENTS’ WORDS

The MA in Chinese Studies at CCS gave me a different perspective on China. Here, I was able to study a wide range of topics involving my home country, including Chinese history, contemporary art, literature, politics, economics and more. Not only did I gain a lot of knowledge from the well-organized curriculum taught by passionate teachers, discussions with my fellow classmates also opened up a lot of new perspectives to me. Thank you very much and I love you, CCS!

CURRICULUM
The MA in Chinese Studies is an interdisciplinary programme. Students have to complete one required course (3 units) and seven elective courses (21 units) with at least four courses within one’s selected stream as prescribed in the course list. The programme has two streams:
1. Chinese Arts and Culture - focusing on film, literature and art history
2. Issues in Contemporary China - focusing on politics, society and international relations
Applicants will choose a stream during the admission process. For more detailed information on the curriculum and course offerings, please visit our website at www.ccs.cuhk.edu.hk.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Applicants must:
- have an undergraduate degree in any discipline from a recognized university overseas, in mainland China, or Hong Kong
- fulfill the English Language Proficiency Requirement as stipulated by the Graduate School

APPLICATION PROCEDURES
Visit the Graduate School homepage at https://www.gs.cuhk.edu.hk/admissions/ for the Postgraduate Prospectus and to submit your application online.

APPLICATION DEADLINES
Round 1  >  Round 2  >  Round 3  >  Round 4
24 Nov 2017  >  2 Feb 2018  >  16 Mar 2018  >  30 Apr 2018

Tuition fees
The tuition fee is HK$135,000* per annum.
If a student (1) intends to enroll in courses in addition to the 24 units of courses required to complete the degree, or (2) fails a course and must retake it, a supplementary course fee will be applied. In 2018-19, tuition fee per additional course is HK$16,875*.
* subject to final approval

ADMISSION SCHOLARSHIPS
The Programme will award up to two scholarships in each academic year. The value of each scholarship will be equal to the full tuition fee of the given academic year. Each applicant to the programme is automatically considered for the scholarship, which is awarded based on academic merit: no separate application is necessary. The Admission Committee will select awardee(s) on a rolling basis — early application to the programme is therefore encouraged.
